Protest shifts to Capitol

The Rev. Edwin Arensten, 61, who was involved in a protest at the Hope Clinic for Women Thursday, was released from the custody of Granite City police at 5 p.m. that day by authority of Associate Judge Thomas Gibbons. Gibbons first set bond at $1,000 at 2 p.m. Thursday and agreed to release him on his own recognizance, without requiring him to post a cash bond, but Rev. Arensten declined to sign the recognizance bond agreement, officials said.

He was then held in the Granite City Jail until 5 p.m., when he was released.

Rev. Arensten joined pro-life demonstrators, including some from the Quad-City area, in Washington, D.C., this weekend for demonstrations at the White House and the Capitol.

He is expected to return tomorrow evening or Wednesday morning to a Franciscan priory, where he has been a guest since his arrival in this area early last week.

In Washington, a St. Louis area delegation participated in a candlelight prayer vigil Sunday night and this morning at the White House and a march to the Capitol.

President and Mrs. Carter were in Georgia on a holiday, but the anti-abortion group was to meet with other White House personnel.

Friends of Rev. Arensten said he has not announced whether he plans additional protests in connection with his activist campaign against abortions. Circulars that he distributed on Thursday promised repeat actions.

Rev. Arensten, who is charged with disorderly conduct, asked for a jury trial.

Restaurant robbed

Two armed robbers took about $1,085 in cash, three checks worth a total of $50 and a wallet from employees of the Pizza Hut Restaurant, 1533 Johnson Road, at 2:25 a.m. Monday.

Employees of the restaurant said they were cleaning up and opened the rear door to take trash out, when a youth walked in the rear door, went to the customer area and showed a blue steel pistol to the manager at a table by the entry door. "This is a holdup. Don't make any sudden moves," the robber said.

A young man then appeared at the rear door with a double-barrel shotgun and yelled, "This is a holdup. Give me all your money."

The second robber entered, went to the cash register and told a woman employee, "Don't move."

He then pointed the shotgun at her and asked, "Where is the money? Hand it to me!"

He searched the cash register, removing $4, and asked her if there was more. The woman then gave him the bank bag, containing $1,081 and three checks totaling $50. The robber also took the 'Good news,' community pride abound—committee

(Community Pride Committee of Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce)

Bad news often makes headlines, but if one just digs a bit, many good things come to the surface that are newsworthy and we soon learn that not everything is bad. Here are some of the good things that happened in the area last month:

Miss Judy Evans, 14, designed an award-winning patch. She is a member of Girl Scout Cadette Troop 328 sponsored by Wilson School.

The girl Scouts are going strong in the Quad-Cities.

Winners in the 10th annual Dress-a-Doll contest sponsored by the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank were announced.

Wanda Mansfield placed first, Gladys Spies was second, and Marie Szymek was third. The needy kids who received the dolls love you all.

IMPRESSIVE OFFICES of the Madison County Department of Public Aid, located since Jan. 3 at 16 Nameoki Village Shopping Center. Entrance is through a double door at the rear (west side) of the former W. T. Grant store. Spacious, well lighted and uncrowded in appearance, the office's uncluttered look is deceptive, as in excess of 14,000 cases are handled here by 80 caseworkers. In Granite City alone, 1,000 families receive Aid to Dependent Children (ADC). Based on four members to a family, this means nearly 10 percent of the community's population is getting ADC funds, only one of several programs of Public Aid. The photo was taken Friday afternoon.

BUSY PEOPLE Ted R. Funkhouser, Madison County director of Public Aid, and Mrs. Elizabeth Knox, his assistant for eight years, continue the task of administering the vast, complex network of Public Aid programs in the county. Delighted with their new 16,524 square foot facilities at 16 Nameoki Village Shopping Center, Funkhouser said the Edwardsville office will be phased out by April and two principal offices will be maintained — here and in Alton — both central to the county's heaviest populated areas.

Protest

which is scheduled for 9 a.m. Tuesday, Feb. 14.

A patrolman was called to the clinic on reports of pickets restraining patients and of loud banging on the front and rear doors of the clinic at 21st Street near Iowa Street.

The priest was seen delaying a woman from entering the building when the officer arrived.

A clinic employee, Elaine Henry, was attempting to help the woman enter and the policeman said he pulled the priest away, but the priest would not let go of the woman's arm.

Force was used to restrain the priest as the woman went inside.

About 20 to 30 pickets were yelling and pounding on the building during the incident and the officer was unable to quiet them. The priest said he was going to enter and halt clinic operations, it is contended.

Another policeman arrived and attempted to explain the state and city laws on peaceful picketing and protests.

The priest refused, saying he was going to do anything to stop clinic operations, witnesses said.

Another officer arrived to assist the first two officers, it was related.

Picket lines opened the clinic doors to allow two employees to go back inside, and the priest was to enter and was restrained by officers.

After Rev. Arenstein was arrested, the Granite City police department contacted Catholic church officials and found that Rev. Arenstein is an ordained priest and resigned his parish at Wendell, Ill., Clay County, between Effingham and Quincy, recently.

A report made after calls to Belleville and Springfield noted that church officials said Rev. Arenstein "has been involved in this type of activity before. They are aware of the activity, but do not approve of it."

Authorities on the scene said the officers behaved calmly and attempted to talk quietly to the protesters.

Despite noise and lack of cooperation, the officers "kept their calm" and used only what force was necessary, according to the observers.

Chief Ronald Vetter said a television report showed an officer raising his voice slightly and saying to the priest, "I should have arrested you when I first arrived. Get in the car," was not representative of the overall manner in which the incident was handled.

A police captain said he felt a patrolman and sergeant handled the incident "admirably in a situation which was planned to cause a problem and gain publicity for the picketers."

Police opened the clinic doors to allow two employees to go back inside, and the priest was

Other main points made by Mrs. Seamen included her opposition to "further erosion of the rights of workers under workman's compensation," her support of collective bargaining rights for public employees, and an appeal for grassroots cooperation in the creation of more jobs.

New standards for child care centers now in effect

New standards for licensing day and night child-care centers are now in effect, Margaret M. Kennedy, director of the state Department of Children and Family Services, has announced.

"These standards impose higher educational and experience requirements for center directors and employees," Miss Kennedy said. "They afford maximum protection for children, but are also reasonable so that individuals and organizations can continue to provide vitally needed child care services."

By law, day and night-time centers are facilities which care for nine or more children. The department licenses about 2,100 centers in Illinois which have a collective capacity for 90,000 children.

The new standards were originally scheduled to go into effect Nov. 1, 1976, but a legal action delayed their implementation, Miss Kennedy noted. Since that time, some sections were added to the standards, others were revised and some were deleted.

"Currently-licensed centers have up to two years to comply with the new standards," Miss Kennedy said. "Applicants seeking a license for the first time must meet all the standards before one is issued."

Among other things, the new standards:

1. Establish higher educational and experience requirements for center directors and employees.
2. Require center operators to carry public liability insurance in the single limit minimum amount of $100,000 per occurrence.
3. Set the ratio for staff caring for children with physical, mental, social or learning handicaps at four to one and require these employees to have additional training and experience.
4. Require centers to pass health and fire inspection before a building is occupied.
5. Spell out the kinds and amounts of food to be served.
6. Require each center worker to have a physical examination prior to employment and every two years thereafter.
7. Set standards for drivers and vehicles engaged in transportation of youngsters.
8. Establish guidelines for activities to be offered to meet the age and developmental needs of children.

The new standards were drafted after a two-year study that included public hearings in a number of Illinois communities. Parents, providers of day care services, and representatives of various service organizations participated in development of the standards as well as the public hearings.

The study was officially conducted by a 40-member subcommittee of the department's advisory committee on day care and staff of the DCFS Office of Child Development.

Two men were arrested and three were treated at 10:30 p.m. Thursday following a fight at the Starlight Tavern, 1225 Madison Ave., Madison, that allegedly started inside the tavern and continued outside.

Carroll Pigg, 28, of 2318 Iowa St., was treated for a cut on the right cheek and middle finger. He was charged with disorderly conduct and released by Madison police on a $35 cash bond.

Dennis Pigg, 22, of 2440 Ohio Ave. also was released on $35 cash bond pending a court appearance Feb. 9 at 1 p.m. on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Dennis Pigg was taken to a hospital after being hit on the back of his head, which was bleeding.

Madison Police Sgt. William Papa, hit in the hand accidentally with a baseball bat, had his hand x-rayed and treated.

People gathered outside were ordered by police to leave, but the two brothers allegedly grabbed a ball bat from inside a truck and tried to hit a third party before being stopped by police.

State upgrading effort to prevent tax evasion

A team of state revenue auditors and investigators has begun a probe of allegations of widespread tax evasion by Chicago lawyers, Governor James R. Thompson said last week.

The special investigation team, under the direction of state Revenue Director Robert M. Whittier, is investigating reports that numerous Chicago lawyers have been understating the amount of their business in order to evade Illinois sales and income taxes.

The team, which will reach a strength of 21 members, will work to identify and collect unpaid state taxes and prepare cases for prosecution where willful fraud is established, Thompson said.

The agents will coordinate with other agencies investigating the charges, including the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement and the Internal Revenue Service. The revenue department's investigation began in early January.

Whittier said the Department of Revenue has included in its request for fiscal 1978-79 operating funds additional money to strengthen tax enforcement and processing systems.

He said several of the systems improvements had been recommended by a study of the department's operations completed last May by the Arthur Anderson Co. management consulting firm.

The study recommended a major upgrade, currently under way, of the department's computer systems to enable the department to mechanize processing and enforcement programs.

Whittier said the computerized systems, to be phased in over a three-year period, would:

1. Mechanize sales tax processing to enable the department to identify non-filers and tax deficiencies more readily.

2. Establish a computer system for processing state income tax withholdings.

3. Integrate all tax accounts of each taxpayer, which would allow the department to expand cross-checking of tax returns and provide additional information for audits.

4. Improve the department's techniques for determining which tax accounts will be audited.

The department also is seeking funds for additional auditors. Whittier said he is hopeful the legislature will be able to support the budget increases.

"Benefits in terms of increased revenue from these programs will not be immediate," Whittier said, "because of the time it will take to design and implement them."

"But the first step will have been taken to put on notice those taxpayers who have been cheating the state and federal governments at the expense of honest taxpayers."

"I think we can expect additional voluntary compliance with tax laws when it is known that steps have been taken to modernize the department's operations."

Committees to consider noise issue

The City Council decided Tuesday night to let its air pollution committee and police committee jointly study whether Granite City wants to participate in an Environmental Protection Agency program to curb noise.

It was explained that the air pollution department does not have the equipment or personnel to measure noise levels — but that noise from automobiles, motorcycles and other vehicles is a problem and perhaps should come under the control of the police department.

The EPA is requesting that the city participate in a noise program by filling out a questionnaire which is to be updated each three years.

Noise monitoring equipment for vehicles will be available for purchase from the EPA, should the city decide to crack down on loud vehicles. The EPA also will offer free training to help the city enforce noise regulations.

The council passed an ordinance amending the city's traffic control ordinance, but reversed itself. The amendment would have allowed parking on the south side of St. Clair Avenue from Namook Road to Dale Avenue.

The council first passed the amendment unanimously, but Sixth Ward Alderman Gerald Parmley later asked the aldermen to rescind the action, saying, "You caught me asleep."

"This is an illegal ordinance since we have an agreement with the state that there will be no parking along there. That was part of the agreement when we widened St. Clair Avenue," Parmley said the other Sixth Ward alderman, Earl Baker, had the amendment ordinance prepared for one St. Clair Avenue resident who son who told to move his vehicle off the street. The resident objected about it to Baker.

The alderman was not able to attend the meeting to speak on behalf of the amendment, but Parmley said its passage should be rescinded because of the state agreement and because St. Clair Avenue is too narrow to allow parking on the south side.

Action to rescind the amendment also was unanimous.

20 in opera auditions

Twenty young vocalists will compete in the ninth annual district auditions of the Metropolitan Opera scheduled Friday, Jan. 27, at 1 p.m. in the Communications Building theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

William Tarwater, chairman of the SIUE department of music, said the public is invited to attend.

The most promising contestants heard at the Southern Illinois district auditions will be selected to compete against other audition winners from the central region.

The district first-place winner will receive $100. A $75 award will go to the vocalist in second place and $50 to the third-place finisher.

Regional semifinals and finals will be held in Chicago March 14 and 15. The winner of regional finals will receive a $300 cash award and an all-expense paid trip to New York as a guest of the National Council of the Metropolitan Opera, to compete in the national semifinals April 2. Second place will be worth $200 and third place, $100.

The central region victor and the winners of 15 other regions in the country will audition before the general manager and his staff on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House.

In the auditions, the singers will be prepared to sing a minimum of five arias, in more than one language and of contrasting style.

All of the contestants are sponsored by a school, college, music club or voice teacher, Tarwater said.

Co-sponsoring the event, along with the SIUE department of music, are the SIUE Friends of Music, of whom Mrs. Maurice Dailey is the chairman.

The district includes the counties of Madison, Jersey, Calhoun, Greene, Macoupin, Montgomery and Bond and all Illinois counties south of the campus.

ONE OF THE MOST ACTIVE students at Illinois College, Jacksonville, Chris Phillip, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Phillip, 3301 Franklin Ave., Granite City. She has been named to the dean's list at Illinois College for academic excellence during the first 1977-78 semester. A 1974 graduate of Granite High School South, she is a senior biology major and has been active in volleyball and as class treasurer. She is a member of Gamma Delta literary society. Illinois College, founded in 1829, was the first college in the state to have graduated a class. It will celebrate its 150 years of existence in 1979 with sequentennial observances.

Olin sales, profits up

Olin Corp. on Tuesday reported on a preliminary basis that net profits for 1977 were $78.1 million, equal to $3.24 a share, an increase of 7.7 percent from $72.6 million, or $3.03 a share, the previous year.

Net sales increased seven percent to $1,472,500,000 from $1,376,500,000.

Net profits for the fourth quarter of 1977 were $9.4 million, or 39 cents a share, up 5.2 percent from $8.9 million, or 37 cents a share, for the same period of 1976. Net sales were $353 million, an increase of 9.5 percent from $322.3 million in the final 1976 quarter.

Olin's Brass and Ecusta Paper and Film Groups and the Olin-American housing subsidiary had record earnings in 1977, and the Winchester and Specialty Services Groups improved, said James P. Towey, chairman and chief executive officer.

"Increased earnings in these operations and substantially higher investment tax credits from the company's expanded capital expenditures program helped offset a substantial decline in profits of the Chemicals Group. The latter resulted from operational problems at two key locations, heavy expenses of starting up new facilities and the cost-price squeeze caused by higher raw material and energy costs."

"The present year will be a challenging one for Olin. As planned, the company will have higher interest expense plus a large increase in depreciation resulting from its $200 million capital spending program."

Chemicals demand is on a plateau, and the strike that began in December in East Alton at Olin's largest plant is currently affecting earnings of both the Brass and Winchester Groups.

"We expect modest growth in 1978, but it now appears our first-quarter results will be significantly lower than a year ago."

$40,000 bond set on suspect

Robert Smith, 19, of 1117 Iowa St., Madison, has been charged with two counts of burglary and bond was set Wednesday afternoon at $20,000 on each count. He is being held in the Madison County jail until the bond is posted.

The charges stem from alleged burglaries of the Madison Auto Parts store, 1020 Madison Ave., Friday and Monday.

Smith allegedly set off an alarm Monday and was arrested inside the store by Madison police.

At the time, he was free on a recognizance bond for the alleged Sept. 10 burglary of a Madison tavern.

GC kickers aid Aurora booters

AURORA — Three Granite City athletes played key roles in Aurora College's best ever soccer season in 1977.

Spartan kicker coach Rick Kilps came to Granite City Friday (Jan. 20) to possibly recruit more Granite City soccer talent for the small college 40 miles west of Chicago.

Key kickers for the 1977 soccer Spartans were: GARY HENCY, 2208 E. 24th St., Granite City, a 1974 graduate of Granite City High School. An Aurora senior, Hency served as captain while starting at halfback.

He scored four goals and had three assists in the 1977 campaign. He won all-state honors in 1974 as a senior at South and was among six Aurora Spartans booters voted Northern Illinois Intercollegiate Conference honors last season.

MARK VOEGELE, 3168 Aubrey Ave., Granite City, was Aurora's 1977 goal-scoring leader with six tallies. He added three assists. Also a 1974 South grad, Voegele is an Aurora all-conference honors as Aurora's goalie. A Spartan sophomore, Lyerla is a 1976 alumnus of GCHS South. He won three letters in soccer and also played baseball in his prep career.

The trio played a prominent role in Aurora's march to its first post-season tourney in 14 years of Spartan soccer history. First-year coach Kilps led the Spartans to their third annual NIIC conference co-championship. Aurora and Rockford College tied with 5-1 records.

Overall in the regular season, Aurora was 8-5. A 2-1 playoff victory over Rockford — in four overtime — sent Aurora to its first state — tourney, NAIA District 20 (Illinois) playoffs at Quincy. Quincy's Hawks eliminated the Spartans 5-1 in Aurora's tourney premiere.

Coach Kilps visit Granite City North and South high schools Friday on a recruiting trip. He complete information on opportunities at Aurora for student athletes. Interested students are to contact their school soccer coaches to meet Kilps.

Aurora College is a private senior college of liberal arts west of Chicago. Enrollment is about 500 students, including 200 on campus.

Country dining room called perky, practical

By BARBARA HARTUNG

Q. We recently bought an old home which we plan to remodel someday. However, until we redo the kitchen we will be using the dining room for all meals.

A. We have four children, all under 12 so I am certain the dining room will get hard wear. However, I want it to be an inviting spot for my husband and me and our children as well as for entertaining guests.

The walls are white now and the only window in the room is large and overlooks a busy street.

The floors are wood but have been covered with beige carpeting. The carpeting is quite spotted and worn.

I have been given an old oak table which will extend to seat eight people, although we will enlarge it merely for the six of us most of the time. I would like to buy chairs and am looking now for a second-hand sideboard or credenza I might refinish.

I'd like to have a dramatic color scheme and have always admired blue and white rooms. What would you suggest? — W. H.

A. You might be interested in a particularly attractive dining room created by designer Edna Axe in her Huntington Valley, Pa., farmhouse.

She stained her wood floors a rich hickory and burnished them to bring out the natural highlights.

She chose a red, white and blue documentary wallpaper in a Federal design for her walls. A matching fabric was selected for Austrian shades to cover one large window. However, the shades are frequently drawn up high and to soften the window Axe added translucent sheers at the lower portion of the window-shirred on rods at the top and bottom for a tailored look.

On her Queen Anne table she spread a cotton tablecloth of blue and white gingham with an overall applique of bright red and white daisies. She selected Queen Anne chairs with rush seats to complement her country dining room. For an added note of practicality she topped the chairs with bright blue cushions of Naugahyde to protect the rush seats and facilitate cleaning. That would be a useful trick for you while your children are young because seat cushions of a cotton or linen fabric can look messy after a few months of use by young diners no matter how careful you and they are.

TRAIN DERAILS TODAY

A Granite City Steel train engine derailed near 16th Street and Grand Avenue at 11:10 a.m. today, blocking Madison Avenue for a short time. About nine cars behind the derailed engine remained on the tracks and were cleared from the intersection by another engine within about 15 minutes of the derailment.

Cougarette game is rescheduled

The women's basketball game between Greenville College and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville which was postponed because of a snowstorm last Monday night, has been reset for Thursday, Jan. 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the Edwardsville High School girls' gym.

Plan 2nd rockathon

The Granite City Society for Crippled Children met at the Elks Lodge last week with President Lily Chaboude presiding, to review 1978 "rockathon" plans.

A trip to the Ice Capades for handicapped children was discussed, with the date to be announced.

The president appointed a committee to plan for the Society's second annual "rockathon," to be held on May 13 at the Crossroads Shopping Center.

Gertrude Luebben and Ernest Hopkins will serve as co-chairmen of the event, and other committee members will be Ann Walsh, Faith and Skip Christiansen, Bonnie Lazenby, David Whitsell, Mildred Talley, Barbara Walt, Ron Veizer, Walter Christiansen, Horace Calvo and Ed Werner.

Allocations for 1978 will be recommended by Chairman A. E. Michel and his committee at the February meeting.

8 being aid off until sewer repair fund source is found

Friday was the final working day for eight Granite City employees in the sewer repair division, which is to be closed until a new source of operating funds can be found.

The Granite City Council Tuesday night voted to halt operations after work Friday, since Community Development grant funds, under which the department has operated more than 18 months, can no longer be used for sewer repair work due to new federal guidelines.

Aldermen were first told Jan. 3 that $270,000 in Community Development funds earmarked for the sewer repair work could not be used for that purpose under guidelines requiring that the funds be used only in "low to moderate income" areas and not for programs to aid the general population of the city.

The grant money still is available for other projects, but a frantic two-week search to find other funds for the sewer repair department was unsuccessful. That search was conducted by the City Council's Street and Alley Committee which issued its recommendation Tuesday night to close the sewer repair division.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey, a member of that committee, told the aldermen that no adequate sources of funds could be found at this time to continue the operation. He noted that the eight employees to be laid off were hired only as temporary employees and may return to the Laborers' Union hiring hall to seek work.

If union work is unavailable, the city may have to pay unemployment compensation for the eight, it was disclosed during a subsequent discussion of the state's new unemployment compensation law.

That law now requires cities to pay unemployment claims for its laid-off employees or to contribute to an unemployment compensation insurance program for its working employees.

The sewer division has been under the authority of Street Superintendent Lionel Portell, who told the council Tuesday night that it may be possible to appropriate more Community Development money for repairs in low-income areas, but that this would require public hearings, paper work and time.

He said that when he found out the Street and Alley Committee was going to recommend closing the sewer division, he returned a backhoe the city was renting for $1,500 per month for sewer work.

Alderman Roy Poulos said, "I hate to lay anyone off, but there is just no other way to keep them on."

Alderman Sam Whitmer, who was acting as mayor pro-tem and presided at the meeting, noted that Community Development has refused to pay the sewer division's payroll and bills since June and expenditures have come from the city's funds.

"We can no longer afford to do this. We will try to put the department back in operation as soon as funds are available," he commented.

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, chairman of the council's Finance Committee, said the city is facing substantial anticipated expenditures in the new budget — including construction of a new police facility now under way, and higher salaries for firemen, police and street department employees when current negotiations are completed.

The city's sewer division was created within the street department one and a half years ago to save the city the cost of hiring outside contractors to repair broken and deteriorating sanitary sewers in the Nameoki area.

With the use of televising and grouting equipment which can work in the sewers without excavating them, the division has repaired numerous sewers in the Nameoki area and has identified problems and potential problems in other sewers.

The department also has replaced 5,250 feet of sewer lines which had deteriorated beyond repair.

Expected to be completed by tomorrow is replacement of a sewer at Kilarney and O'Hare avenues.

Waiting department operations will leave two breaks where bypass pumping will be continued until repairs can be made.

One is on East 24th Street and Anchorage and the other is off Wabash Avenue between Pontoon Road and Amos Avenue, Portell explained.

He said there are four smaller breaks which do not need immediate work but which will require replacement in the near future.

Seeks former major leaguer

An Iowa baseball researcher is attempting to locate all former major league baseball players. Over 95 percent of the known living players have already been located. One of the missing players for whom there is no current address is known to have once resided in this area.

Harry Boyles was born on Nov. 29, 1911, in Granite City. He was a pitcher for the White Sox in 1938 and 1939.

His height of 6'5 inches earned him the nickname "Stretch." As recently as 1971, he lived on State Street in East Peoria, Ill. Reportedly he has since moved to Oklahoma.

Those who know the whereabouts of this man, may contact Jack Smaling, 2308 Van Buren Ave., Ames, Iowa 50010. If he should be deceased, the date and place of death would be appreciated by Smaling.

Lifesaving course at local 'Y'

An advanced lifesaving course will be offered at the Tri-City Area YMCA on Edison Avenue in Granite City. Advanced lifesaving is the replacement for the old senior lifesaving course.

The objective of the course is to provide each individual with the skills and knowledge designed to save his own life or the life of another in the event of an emergency.

Utilizing a combination of skills, development and discussion, this course will help each student become a highly skilled individual with a positive attitude toward safety while in, on, or near water.

Completion of the course will result in three-year Red Cross advanced lifesaving certification.

The course will begin Saturday, Jan. 28, and meet for six consecutive Saturdays from 1 to 5 p.m. Instructor will be Augusta Birkhead, who is the Madison County water safety chairman.

Information of fees, eligibility prerequisites, and registration procedure will be available by contacting the YMCA physical director, Ed Mercer, at 876-7200.

Scuba diving offered at 'Y'

The Tri-City Area YMCA will offer a nationally "Y" certified course in scuba diving. In order to qualify, one has to demonstrate comfort in the water and have basic swimming ability.

The instructor will be Phil Deming. Instruction will be from 5 to 9 p.m. starting Jan. 29. The course will be approximately eight weeks long, meeting on Sundays.

Eligible are adults as well as youngsters 12-15 years of age who may obtain their junior diver certificate. Certifications are by the "Y." PADE, AHA and the nationally famous NAUI upon successful completion of the course.

Cost is $50 to members or $65 to non-members. Textbooks as well as all equipment are furnished.

In order to conduct the class, a minimum amount of people is necessary, so the YMCA is urging those interested to call the "Y" and pre-register or go in and put down a $10 deposit.

Sports memorabilia club to meet in area Jan. 29

A bi-monthly meeting of "The St. Louis Cards," a St. Louis area sports collectors club, will be held Sunday, Jan. 29.

The club is nearly three years old. Over 100 members collect baseball cards, scorecards, programs and other sports memorabilia.

This month's meeting's highlight is the presentation of the "Collector of the Year" award.

The award is presented annually to a club member most dedicated to the hobby. Location of all meetings is the Edwardsville Holiday Inn. Meetings are from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Anyone interested in attending is welcome, a spokesman said. For additional club information, Quad-Cityans may call 876-2495. The St. Louis Cards are a chartered, not-for-profit organization.

Jones finished second in scoring for Illinois State, and the other guard for the Red Birds, Billy Lewis, had 25.

The game's leading scorer was a local area candidate, Larry Bird from Indiana State. He had 37 points and pulled down 17 rebounds.

It was Indiana State's second loss in a row. The team was upset Thursday night in Carbondale by Southern Illinois, 79-76.

Gina will be a first-alternate in the case that the first place finisher cannot make the trip to the national finals to be held next month.

Trojans grab Dupo title, 88-73

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor
DUPLO, Jan. 21 — Larry Graham didn't seem to be particularly worried before Saturday night's Duplo Tourney championship game with Civic Memorial (Bethalto). As things turned out, there wasn't any need to be worried.

The Trojans walked off with their second tournament championship of the season with an 88-73 thrashing of the Eagles. They captured the Breesse Mater Dei Christmas Tournament title in December. The Trojans were the defending champions at Duplo.

MADISON was sparked by a 25-point performance by Anthony King, who also grabbed off nine rebounds. "We played in spurts," said Graham. "There were several times we had a chance to put them away, but didn't react."

At times in the first half, it looked as if Madison might be in for a tough battle with Bethalto, only the second Illinois Class AA school (750 enrollment or more) they've played this season. They defeated Greenville in the Mater Dei tourney.

THE EAGLES, using a well-disciplined offense, worked the ball inside to their big man, 6-4 center Bruce Long, who filled the nets for 27 points.

When the middle was clogged up, Bethalto rode the 21-point shooting performance of 5-9 guard, Steve Carey.

But the night belonged to Madison. They broke away from a 21-21 tie with 6:07 remaining in the first half to a 37-24 lead with 57 seconds remaining and a 41-29 lead at halftime.

"I worked the team hard last night in practice," said Graham. "I really wanted them to work hard."

"I think we may have been pressing a little too hard at times out there tonight, but we came through at the critical moments of the game."

That second quarter turned out to be Bethalto's undoing. They played the Trojans relatively even in the second half, being outscored 23-22 in the third period and 24-22 in the fourth.

At points in the third quarter, it appeared as if Madison might blow Bethalto out of the state. After an Eagle basket by Carey, James Heard came down the floor and scored quickly to put the Trojans' lead at 48-38. It appeared as if Bethalto might be mounting some sort of a comeback.

BUT HEARD, Colston and Carlyn Jackson soon put any such notions to rest. Heard stole the ensuing Eagle in-bounds pass and scored a layup for a 12 point lead. Then Colston stole a pass on the Eagle's next possession and fed it down the floor to Jackson who scored to make it a 14 point Trojan lead. Jackson then stole an errant Bethalto pass the next trip down the floor. The result was an eventual basket and a 16 point Madison lead.

But the Eagles weren't yet ready to head back home to Bethalto. They crept back to within 10 points, 64-54, with 7:10 remaining in the game, mainly on the hot shooting of Carey and Long, who scored 10 points in the final period.

That's when the Madison machine was put back into gear. Four straight Trojan steals, the last two by Heard added to a 20 point Madison lead just one minute later, 74-54.

Graham wasn't kidding when he said they played in spurts. THE LEAD for Madison was at 20 one more time in the game, 83-63 with 2:54 remaining.

That's when Graham started emptying the bench. The Madison coach was pleased with the play of many of his players' performances, of course, but particularly with King and Jackson.

"Anthony (King) had a really outstanding tournament," said Graham. "He kept us up at times we needed a lift and came through with a lot of key baskets in all three games."

"Jackson really had a good game tonight. He scored in critical situations... times when it looked like Bethalto might be about to overtake us."

Graham went on to praise the 6-1 forward. "He's really coming along. There was a time early in the season that he wasn't even getting into a lot of games."

"He may be our best shooting forward."

THE TOURNAMENT BOARD must have been equally impressed. They named Jackson to the second team all-tourney squad. Madison's Heard was named to the first team and Colston was named as the tournament's most valuable player.

The next game for the 14-1 Trojans will be Friday night at home against Livingston.

Warriors Smash Notre Dame

For DOUG IRVIN
GRANITE CITY — "If we can win our next two games, we'll be assured of our first winning season in six years," commented South Warriors basketball Coach Don Deterding.

His squad had just upped their season record to 11-4 Friday night against Quincy Notre Dame, taking a 58-43 win.

"You've got to give credit to Tim Hennrich and Terry Angle," said Deterding.

Angle pumped in 19 points and Hennrich 13 over the 32 minutes of the game.

"ANGLE got the first chance at a basket and he wound up making a three point play as he was fouled by Jeff Wellman of Notre Dame when he took a shot from the right side.

With four minutes left in the opening quarter, Hennrich grabbed a rebound after a missed Notre Dame shot and drove all the way down the court where he sank a jumper to push South ahead, 7-6.

THE WARRIORS, down by three points, got the ball to Hennrich who scored on another 30-footer to bring his team within one point at the end of the quarter, 13-12.

Sophomore sensation Lee Huebner had an off-night. He scored his first and only basket early in the second quarter to give the Warriors the lead.

That lead changed hands six times in the period, with South taking a two point advantage at halftime, 28-23.

In the middle of the second quarter, South's Jeff Tretter tied up the ball with Jim Finn of Quincy. Tretter tipped the ball to Hennrich on the jump ball who showed his passing qualities by tossing a court pass to Jeff Parker, who scored on a layup.

At the opening of the third quarter, the ball traveled from one end of the court to the other before Hennrich finally scored one for South, extending their lead.

TOM MAHL put in his contribution (two baskets) by hitting a 25 foot jumper in the third quarter. He did it just as the period ended, giving South a 39-31 lead. It was a lead they would never give up.

DRIBBLING DOWNCOURT for South Friday night is Jeff Tretter (44). Tretter scored 10 points in the Warriors' 59-43 thrashing of Quincy Notre Dame. (Doug Irvin Photo)

SIUE's Guelker given national 'honor award'

BOSTON, MASS.—The 35th annual Honor Award of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) was presented to Bob Guelker here Saturday as the climax of the annual national convention of the country's collegiate soccer coaches.

The NSCAA Honor Award is the highest recognition the association presents a member of its group.

Guelker, coach of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer Cougars, has received numerous previous awards from the association, including being chosen "Coach of the Year" in 1973 and serving as its president for a one-year term.

Making the Honor Award presentation to Guelker was Clifford McCrath, soccer coach at Seattle Pacific University and chairman of the NSCAA Honor Award Committee. Said McCrath: "Bob Guelker is one of the winning coaches in U.S. collegiate soccer history. Including the just-completed 1977 season, his teams at St. Louis University and now at Southern Illinois University have won 206 games while losing 35 and playing 12 draws. If his record for youth soccer competition were added, the totals would be truly staggering." McCrath added: "In his 19 years of coaching, he has the toughest schedule possible, his teams have never failed to qualify for post-season NCAA play. In eight campaigns at St. Louis U., his team captured five national NCAA championships while producing 17 All-Americans.

"Then in 1967 Bob moved across the Mississippi River to the beautiful new SIUE campus and started soccer there. In 1969, his Cougars became eligible for post-season NCAA play and his old school, St. Louis U., knocked the fledgling Cougars off. But, in 1972, the first year the NCAA held a division II playoff to determine a national champion, the Cougars won it for Guelker."

McCrath pointed out that the following year, 1973, the NCAA permitted schools to "play up" in one sport, and SIUE consequently has opted to compete in division I ever since.

In 1975, Guelker's Cougars finished second to the University of San Francisco. Last year, at Berkeley, Calif., they lost to the Dons in a semi-final in overtime 2-1, and went on to finish third by defeating Brown University 3-2, on a come-from-behind effort.

Concluding his presentation to Guelker, McCrath stressed the veteran coach's service on the group's various committees and pointed out that the Olympic team he coached in 1972 was the only U.S. eleven ever to make it to the final 16. The Olympic finals were played in Munich, Germany.

North falls twice in East to turney

By DOUG IRVIN

for the Press-Record
BELLEVILLE — Dennis Page was the big gun for North as he scored a total of 20 points, but Murphysboro had a bigger gun, namely Larry Miles, who scored 23 points.

Miles and his cohorts proved to be too much for the Steelers as the Murphysboro Red Devils defeated North for the consolation third place in the Belleville East Tournament by the score of 63-53 Saturday afternoon.

Thursday, North lost a two-point consolation thriller to Belleville Althoff, 70-68.

"We are not consistent. We did some things, we weren't supposed to do," confessed the coach of the Steelers, Bill Ohendorf.

The first four points of the game were scored from the free throw line. First from the hands of David Kellum of the Red Devil team. He was fouled by Rick Willardt and then from the Steeler gun, Page, as he was fouled by the Red Devil gun, Miles.

That was the first of two times the score was tied. Later on in the fourth quarter the score was again tied.

North got the advantage of the free throw bonus situation with three minutes left in the first quarter, but only scored two out of three times on the line. The Steelers were down by nine at the end of the quarter, 19-16.

RUSTY CHAPPELL of North, received an injury to his hip, which took him out of the game for about four minutes. He went to the hospital after the game for stitches.

North outscored the Red Devils by four points, 18-14 in the second quarter as but that wasn't good enough as Murphysboro was still on top at halftime, 33-28.

The first points of the second half were also charity tosses, by Willardt. He was fouled by Kirk Harris while shooting.

Willardt sank both of them. Each time the ball went to one end of the court two points were scored, this was true for the next nine trips.

North came out with six more free throws to pull the lead down to only three points, 45-42. The Murphysboro coach began to sweat.

FOUR SECONDS. It took only four seconds to bring the Steelers within one point. Brad Gauen got the fourth quarter tip off to Bob Baley who scored from the right base line.

One-and-a-half minutes later, Baley tied the score at 45-45. During a three minute time span, Murphysboro scored 11 straight points to put the Red Devils way on top at 56-45.

Coach Ohendorf signaled his team to call a time out and one was called. Thirteen seconds after the break, Page sank a 15 footer.

Greg Leumann of North put in a 25 foot jumper followed by another Page basket a minute later.

CHAPPELL put in North's last two points with 11 seconds remaining.

For every two points North scored after the Red Devil rally they put two points on the board.

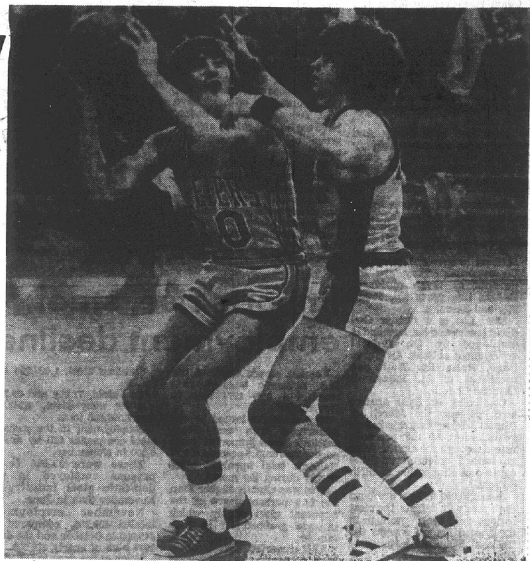

"We just didn't put the ball in the hole enough times," said Ohendorf. Page and Leumann did fine jobs, but ...

Livingston drops Devils

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 21 — Disappointment is a word Ken Perkins has learned the meaning of quite well this season.

Perkins is the basketball coach at Venice High School, losers of 10 of their 11 games thus far.

Never was it more heart felt than Saturday night. Perkins watched as his Red Devils tied vainly to overcome their own mistakes and fell short of overtaking Livingston in Keil Auditorium, 69-52.

"I'm really disappointed," said Perkins. "We didn't shoot well, we looked as if we had no pattern out there ... and every time it looked like we might be about to get back into the game, we'd make a tiny mistake and let them (Livingston) off the hook."

In the first half, Venice seemed to be able to grab off both sides of the boards ... both the offensive and defensive rebounds. But then would turn the ball over to Livingston on some sort of turnover.

AT THE SAME TIME, everything that the Eagles seemed to throw anywhere remotely near the basket went in ... it was a bad combination for Venice.

After falling behind at the end of the first quarter 14-8, Venice was outscored by Livingston 12-8 in the second period sending the Devils into the locker room at halftime trailing 26-16.

Livingston in the third quarter. On two occasions they crept within four points. Donald Gardner hit a shot from five feet out with two minutes remaining in the period to make it 32-29.

Livingston, and Ricky Salmond hit a six foot fade-away jumper with 1:15 remaining to bring Venice within 37-33.

When Salmond made a layup at the buzzer after a Red Devil steal of a Livingston pass, the score was 39-34 at the end of the period.

LIVINGSTON outscored Venice 21-18 in the fourth quarter to walk away with the win.

"We stick to the zone too strictly," said Perkins. "Many times we wouldn't cover someone who was open because he 'wasn't in the zone.'"

"If we have trouble with point guards," he added. "We knew (Kevin) Robertson would be a good shooter, and we were right. We just can't seem to defend guys like that properly."

The 6-6 Robertson burned the nets for 20 Livingston points in sparking them to their tenth win in fifteen starts.

Anthony Wise led the Devils in scoring with 14 points, 10 of those coming in the second half. He was followed by Salmond who scored 10 in addition to grabbing six rebounds.

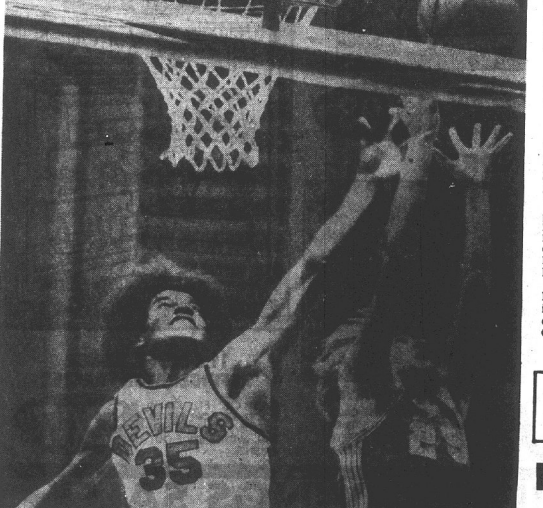

Reggie Mathis also scored 10 Red Devil points, eight in the second half when the Eagles made their run at the Eagles.

Parents wanting their children placed on baseball teams for the coming season should contact the park office at 777-3050 to register.

The Jan. 26 meeting is for all managers from last year and for all new managers who want to have a team this year.

"We will be in need of additional players to take care of the expected list of boys that we will have who want to play baseball in the 1978 season," the spokesman commented.

Fight on birth defects aided by mothers' porchlight march

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Volunteers to help in the Mothers Porchlight March for the 1978 March of Dimes campaign are being asked to contact Donnie and Holly Lee, 54 Briarhaven Drive, at 877-8454.

Those being sought to aid the fund drive will be asked to solicit donations in their immediate neighborhoods during January.

"We also need people willing to go to other neighborhoods," Mrs. Lee said this week. "Depending on the weather during the remainder of this month, we may have to extend the campaign into February," she added.

Mrs. Lee said Larry and Carolyn Davis, 6 Queensberry Court, have agreed to coordinate the Mothers Porchlight March in the Pontoon Beach area.

Residents in Pontoon Beach village and surrounding area wishing to volunteer are contacting Mrs. Davis at 831-0076.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee have assisted in previous March of Dimes drives. They are the parents of three children, DeAnn, 10½ years old, Traci, 6½, and Jason, 3½.

Mrs. Lee is a former Girl Scout leader and her husband is employed by the federal government at Scott Air Force Base, Belleville. Both are members of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Continuing its fight against birth defects, the March of Dimes' primary target in recent years, most of the proceeds raised through the annual drive go toward research into the cause and elimination of birth defects.

Over 250,000 infants are born each year with defects, the most serious child health problem in the United States, reports the National Foundation-March of Dimes.

To find new ways to protect the unborn baby from birth defects, the foundation supports 386 research programs, in effect on Oct. 1, 1977, at universities and medical centers in the U.S.

Low birthweight is the most common birth defect. In the United States, the incidence of low birthweight is nearly 15 percent higher than in Great Britain, about 27 percent higher than in Japan and 61 percent higher than in Finland.

Sixteen newborns out of every 1,000 die before their first birthday — 36,000 infants die before they are 28 days old, and an additional 14,000 babies fail to live out their first year of life.

The infant death rate in the U.S. is higher than in 16 other nations, according to the National March of Dimes Foundation.

Health officials feel the rate could be reduced by one-third if every woman were to receive high-quality medical care early and throughout pregnancy and during labor and delivery.

Maternal malnutrition during pregnancy appears to be a primary cause of low birthweight.

Early and regular prenatal care provides medical attention, as well as nutritional counseling to help assure a healthy birth.

American teenagers have almost 600,000 babies each year, the Foundation officers have said. Teenagers, 17 and under, have the highest rate of any age group of dead or damaged babies.

Women who smoke heavily during pregnancy tend to have low birthweight babies.

Abdominal x-rays during pregnancy can possibly damage the unborn child, and an expectant mother should disclose the fact she is pregnant to the physician wishing to take x-rays.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes says there are currently more than one million alcoholic women of child-bearing age in the United States.

Medical experts have discovered that women who drink excessively during pregnancy tend to have more babies with physical and mental defects.

Five million women of the same age level have no immunity against rubella (German-measles). Such immunization can spare the unborn infant severe, sometimes fatal birth defects.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes provides the major source of funds to clinical centers in the U.S. providing services in genetic medicine.

Every two minutes, a newborn is denied a healthy birth, a spokesman said.

The volunteer health agency's goal is the prevention of birth defects and, to this end, the funds collected in the traditional Mothers' Porchlight March this month are devoted, Mrs. Lee said.

Imports rise, steel employment declines

Foreign steel's share of the U.S. domestic steel market reached a new 1977 high in November.

New statistics issued by the American Iron and Steel Institute show imported steel accounted for 21.6 percent of the nation's total apparent steel supply during the month.

This was slightly higher than the 21.5 percent share of the apparent steel supply which imports grabbed off in September.

AISI reported that November's domestic steel shipments totaled 7,188,000 tons in November — a drop of 212,000 tons from October's 7,400,000 tons.

At the same time, steel imports soared from 1,762,000 tons in October to 1,938,000 tons in November, an increase of 176,000 tons.

From the end of June to the end of November, imports accounted for slightly more than one-fifth of the total U.S. apparent steel supply. Through the first 11 months of the year, foreign steel made up 17.3 percent of the domestic market.

A breakdown of steel shipment by markets and grades (in net tons) follows, with the first 11 months of 1977 given first and January-November 1976 listed second.

Market classifications:
Automotive, 20,027,000 and 19,915,000.
Steel service centers, 14,011,000 and 13,600,000.
Construction and contractors' products, 11,108,000 and 11,118,000.
Machinery, industrial and electrical equipment, 7,581,000 and 7,277,000.
Containers and packaging, 5,314,000 and 6,437,000.
All other markets, 25,134,000 and 24,791,000.
Grades shipped:
Carbon steel, 75,132,000 and 74,747,000.

Stainless steel, 1,022,000 and 925,000.
Tool steel, 77,800 and 69,700.
Other alloy steel, 7,943,000 and 7,396,000 tons.

Employment in the nation's steel companies fell by nearly 6,000 in November.

There were 33,000 fewer persons employed in the domestic steel industry in November than in June.

November employment totaled 439,000, compared to 445,000 in October and the June 1977 high of nearly 472,000.

Much of the drop in the work force was due to record imports, which since May have claimed over one-fifth of the country's steel supply. For each one million tons of imports, 5,000 to 6,000 potential domestic steelworkers jobs are lost, the AISI estimates.

A substantial portion of the employment decline occurred in the heavy work ranks. Their November total was 327,000, down from 332,000 in October and a peak of 354,000 in June.

Through the first 11 months of this year, the nation's steelworkers paid out $8.45 billion in wages and salaries.

Total employment costs per hour for wage earners in November, including all fringe benefits, reached $13.56.

Call jury for Bull trial

Jury selection began today in the trial of suspended Madison County Sheriff's Deputy Larry Bull, 27, Collinsville, who is accused of two felony counts of theft for allegedly possessing television sets stolen from Bert's Audio-TV Showroom, 1910 Delmar Ave.

Circuit Judge Alfred Prezman of Calhoun County will preside over the trial in Edwardsville, to avoid allegations of political bias.

The Madison County state's attorney's office also withdrew from the case, for the same reason, and Alton attorney John Dale Stobbs has been serving as a special prosecutor for the case against Bull and co-defendants in the Bert's case.

Six persons have been charged with either taking or subsequently possessing stolen television sets, audio equipment, CB radios and other items taken from the Bert's store here on three occasions between June 16 and 21, 1977.

Among those indicted in the case is Kenneth Stover, 20, Alton, a former employee of the store, who allegedly had store items taken from the Bert's. Bull's is the first trial in the case. E. C. Vallery, Alton, pleaded guilty to two reduced misdemeanor counts of theft and was sentenced to serve two years of probation and pay a $500 fine.

Prosecution is pending against Stover, Gary L. Rainey, 20, Alton, Mark J. McManis, 22, Godfrey, and Robert M. Gayan, 30, Godfrey.

Judge Pezman disposed of pre-trial motions in the Bull matter Friday, clearing the way for jury selection today and the opening of the prosecution's case by Stobbs either this afternoon or tomorrow.

An unrelated arson charge against Bull is not to be considered during this trial.

Jos. Anselmo, 13, struck on Madison

Joseph Anselmo, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Anselmo, 1711 Elizabeth St., Madison, was injured at 1 p.m. Saturday when struck by an automobile in the 1200 block of Madison Avenue.

The boy apparently was running across the street when he slipped and fell on the icy pavement and was struck by the southbound vehicle of Johnnie A. Fulcher, 2445 Edison Ave.

Joseph suffered abrasions to the left hip and right knee and fractures to several ribs. He underwent surgery Saturday evening and was in satisfactory condition Sunday, according to his father.

For her wedding the former Miss Tindall chose a full length white silk organza gown designed with a fitted natural waistline and full skirt encircled with a deep ruffled flounce.

Chilly lace motifs were appliqued on the bodice and on the sheer butterfly sleeves.

She wore a lace Juliet cap to secure her elbow length veil of bridal illusion trimmed with a lace border. She held a single long stem blue rose.

Mrs. Patti Justice, the groom's sister, served as matron of honor. She selected a pale blue polyester princess

She carried a long stem white rose, tied with white streamers. The flower girl, Vicki Justice, a niece of the groom, was dressed in a pastel blue frock with a gathered skirt and puff sleeves. A floral insert accented the front bodice. She also held a single white rose.

A brother-in-law of the groom, Rick Justice, was the best man. Ushers included David Tindall, a brother of the bride, and Brad Burnett, the groom's cousin.

Mrs. Burnett, mother of the groom, entertained the wedding party at a dinner in her home following the church rehearsal.

Seek school aid formula revision due to fewer pupils, bigger values

A $1,986,000,000 budget for elementary and secondary education in Illinois during the 1978-79 fiscal year has been recommended by the State Board of Education. This represents an $185.5 million increase—or 10.3 percent—over present state spending.

The largest share of that budget—$1.38 billion—would go for direct aid to school districts under a revised state aid formula recommended by the state board.

Also included in the budget recommendations were: $228 million for teachers' retirement; $339.5 million for special programs; $14.9 million for state education office operations; $6.5 million in hold harmless monies; $3 million for summer school; and $5.1 million for common school fund grants.

The State Board of Education's budget proposal was developed over a three-month period, during which the board held three public hearings and heard informally from numerous educators, organizations and citizens on the needs of education in Illinois.

State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin noted that the board's budget is based on those needs, while at the same time considers the board's own goals and priorities.

He said testimony presented at an annual State Board public hearing strongly pointed out a need for revision of the state's resource equalizer formula.

The formula, enacted in 1973, attempted to increase the state share and to narrow the disparity of resources available for education in rich and poor districts.

It guaranteed a certain per-pupil amount of state and local dollars—$1,260—to any district taxing at a maximum rate of 2.5 percent.

"Circumstances unforeseen when the formula was first devised now are causing hardships in districts," Dr. Cronin noted.

He explained that the three major variables affecting the amount of money a school district receives from the state under this formula are:

- (1) The district's wealth (measured by the equalized assessed valuation of property within the district);
- (2) The district's own efforts toward raising money for education (its tax rate for education); and
- (3) The number of students enrolled in the district (with additional weightings given to high school students and to pupils from low income families).

"School districts recently have been hard hit by significant changes in two of these three factors," Cronin reported.

"Enrollments are declining in many districts. At the same time, assessed valuations are increasing, mainly due to a recent state law requiring counties to equalize their assessments at 33.3 percent."

"These two factors mean these districts would be receiving significantly less state aid for their schools. In fact, our estimates show that districts would receive $25 million less next year unless steps are taken to adjust the formula."

The board's proposed revisions would, in effect, guarantee that the per-pupil amount of state and local dollars available to a district taxing at the maximum operating rate would be increased to $1,300. It also would mean an additional $1 school districts would be eligible for this maximum aid.

The board proposal would reduce by three cents (from $1.90 to $1.87) the operating tax rate an elementary district would need to levy to qualify for maximum state aid.

This would mean that an additional 16 elementary districts—or a total of 160 of the state's 447 elementary districts—would be eligible for maximum state aid.

The qualifying rate for unit districts would similarly be reduced by seven cents (from $2.90 to $2.83), bringing an additional 35 unit districts into the top aid category for a total of 101 of the unit districts.

The board further proposed raising the 25 percent limitation on the amount of aid a district may gain—from one year to the next—to 35 percent.

A five-point policy statement outlining the board's long-range perspectives on school finance also was passed.

The statement, presented by State Board budget committee chairperson Don Truitt, recommended:

1. That the state strive to guarantee to children and parents that each school district have access to the dollar revenues available to those districts at the 75th percentile of expenditures per pupil.
2. That the state move toward enacting one general state aid formula property financed.

3. That as an interim step beginning with the 1979-80 fiscal year no additional school districts be allowed to depart from the resource-equalizer formula.

4. That a long-range commitment be made to examine the prospects for formula reforms to include the income as well as property tax base of local school districts, as well as to provide increases in state aid associated with inflation and the cost of living.

5. That the state express its commitment to an efficiency-oriented transportation reimbursement formula, and incentives to more economical management of local transportation programs.

The State Board of Education listed fiscal 1978 appropriations and fiscal 1979 proposals as follows:

State aid formula, $1,260,000,000 and $1,379,700,000.

Illinois Power to spend $1.3 billion

Permanent financing requirements for Illinois Power Company in 1978 will amount to $160 million, Wendell J. Kelley, chairman and president of the company, told members of the New York Society of Security Analysts Wednesday.

Kelley and other officers of the company met with the society to discuss the company and its operation. The types, amounts and timing of the financings have not yet been determined, Kelley said.

In his talk to the analysts, he said that the company is in relatively good condition for the next few years as far as coal is concerned, and no problems are anticipated in oil supply.

Sufficient uranium to meet the requirements of the nuclear station under construction near Clinton into the late 1980s is under contract, he said.

"As you can see from this report," he said, "most functions in our company are in pretty good shape. Our system demand, and kilowatt-hour sales are in line with expectations."

"We have been able to procure future coal supplies at reasonable costs. Considering all the complications and escalating cost of nuclear construction, we are progressing satisfactorily with our construction program."

"The Illinois Commerce Commission has continued to be fair in the determination of our rates. We have maintained a favorable credit rating, and our common stock still sells well."

Eagle scout is selected for state's citizenship program

William F. Winter Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Winter, 331 Wilshire Drive, an Eagle scout, has been chosen by the Advancement Committee of the Chalkida Mount Boy Scout Council to represent the council at the Illinois Eagle Scout Citizenship Program in Springfield on Feb. 5-7.

Governor James Thompson, and his cabinet will participate with Eagles from all over the state.

While in Springfield, the scouts will elect Eagles who will serve as symbolic state officials, including governor, during the program.

They will visit the Illinois Museum, State Archives, Old State Capitol and Lincoln's home.

They also will visit the State Capitol building, make formal "reports to the governor" and have luncheon with him.

A member of Troop 102, whose chartering group is Suburban Baptist Church, Winter is vice-chief of the Uniwah Chapter of the Order of the Arrow and has served on the Camp Sunen staff. An honor student, he is a member of the junior varsity wrestling team of Granite City High School North.

To meet the needs of older women returning to the classroom as adult learners, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale now offers an array of educational opportunities, including workshops, seminars, programs and individual courses, as well as regular course offerings with certain sections reserved for the adult learner.

Paul Burns, director of Off-Campus Programs at the university, said that as a public service, the General Studies Division and the Gerontology Program at SIUE offer a continuing education workshop each quarter for older people who wish to continue their education.

For the woman who "dropped out" or "stopped out" of college to raise a family or for some other reason, the continuing education workshop provides information on alternate routes to a college degree, entering college without a high school diploma, and receiving college credit for life's experiences.

The workshop also provides testing for career and personal interest goals, group and individual counseling, and information on financial aid programs available to the mature student.

Workers face layoffs

Layoffs among workers of the Metro-East Sanitary district appear certain during February, according to district President Russell Robinson of Granite City, but Wendell Wheadon, executive director of the district, does not agree.

Robinson said last week that layoffs are inevitable because of the district's financial situation, and noted that cuts in the maintenance force likely will be made first.

He said that while his efforts to cut back the payroll were unsuccessful last year, he believes other board members will go along with this cut.

Wheadon, however, said Friday that there will be no layoffs next month "or anytime this year."

He said there is sufficient revenue to meet the payroll of approximately $70,000 a month for the remainder of this year.

Robinson said he does not know how many workers will be laid off, but that the layoffs will be for about two weeks or a month and would include regular workers and federally-paid and state-paid employees.

Under the district's union contracts with workers, regular employees may be laid off only after those paid with federal or state funds are laid off.

The board plans to issue anticipation warrants early next month, following approval of a new tax levy on Jan. 30, but these funds would get the district only through July.

The sanitary district has held up payment of claims for the past two months and may do so for the next two months, incurring a deficit in claim payments that may reach $100,000.

GC crime down 11% in '77

Major crime decreased a total of 11 percent in 1977 from 1976 in Granite City, according to the Granite City Police Department's annual report which was released this week.

Statistics showed 2,597 crimes in the eight major crime categories last year as compared to 2,933 in 1976.

Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer commented that the figures show considerable improvement and noted, "The policemen have done one heck of a job."

"I am posting a letter complimenting them on 1977, because of their diligent work and the cooperation from all facets of the police department and from the criminal justice system."

In addition to the decrease in crime, police solved 666 major crimes through arrest, or 36 percent of the total.

"We feel this is especially important, because the national average is only about 18.4 percent of crimes cleared by arrest," Veizer said.

In 1976, 649 major crimes were solved by arrest, or 22.13 percent of the 2,933 major crimes during the year.

Showing the largest percentage decrease among the eight major crime categories was murder, which was down 30 percent, from four murders in 1976 to two in 1977.

Forcible rape was down 20 percent in the same period, from five cases to four.

Auto burglaries were down 26 percent, from 716 to 529, and auto theft showed a 13 percent drop, from 229 to 199 in 1977.

Also down were larceny, from 1,033 to 976, a six percent decline; burglary from 674 to 593, a 12 percent drop; and robbery, down from 29 to 26, or three-tenths of one percent.

Assault cases were up nine percent, from 243 to 266.

Cleared by arrest in 1977, with 1976 figures in parentheses, were: homicide three (three);

rape, three (one); robbery, 10 (nine); assault, 266 (187); burglary, 108 (101); auto burglary, 44 (48); larceny, 271 (258), and auto theft, 27 (42).

There also were 864 lesser criminal cases cleared by arrests, up from 850 in 1976.

The total number of cases cleared by felony and misdemeanor cases during 1977 was 1,530, up from 1,499 the previous year.

There were 2,127 traffic arrests in 1977, up from 1,948 in 1976, and 1,400 other arrests for a total of 3,427, up from 3,471 the previous year.

Multiple charges on some persons brought the total number of charges filed to 4,166, as compared to 4,095 in 1976.

The report also summarized the types of auto accidents in the city as compared to 1976.

There were two fatal accidents each year.

In 1977, there were 593 injury accidents, an increase from 437 the previous year. There also were 1,506 property damage accidents, up from 1,398 in 1976.

The total number of accidents in 1977, 2,101, was up 284 from 1,817 in 1976, and the number of persons injured in accidents increased by 49, from 623 to 672 in 1977, according to the police tally.

There were 24,440 total complaints answered by police during 1977.

Mine reclamation plan

LI. Gov. Dave O'Neal has announced that a state plan for abandoned mined land reclamation is tentatively scheduled to be voted on March 7 by the Abandoned Mined Land Reclamation Council, of which he is chairman.

He said, "The plan will contain two basic parts: a list of research and work items necessary to obtain federal funds within two years, and the criteria which the council will use in selecting reclamation sites beginning this spring."

O'Neal made the announcement during a meeting of the council last week. The council is made up of representatives of seven state agencies and is mandated to provide site selection, program development and funding, and administration for reclaiming land that was affected by surface mining and underground mining techniques prior to 1962.

The council approved a $1.5 million capital development budget proposal for fiscal 1978-79, as well as a budget proposal of $100,000 for administrative services.

O'Neal said, "The funding of the council by the General Assembly, this year of only $45,000 for administrative services was ridiculous. We cannot even hire an assistant for our executive director, and have cut back drastically in traveling expenses."

"The entire year's work was greatly hampered by the severe lack of funding."

In other action, the council approved the hiring of Allen D. Grobobil of Petersburg as executive director.

The seven agencies which make up the council are the departments of Mines and Minerals, Conservation, Local Government Affairs, Business and Economic Development, and Agriculture, as well as the Environmental Protection Agency and the Institute for Environmental Quality.

State's slow pace endangers Mounds State Park expansion

The Illinois Conservation Department has taken many constructive actions in this area and throughout the state, but always moves slowly and ponderously—a fact that may prevent or complicate further expansion of Cahokia Mounds State Park.

Perhaps the nation's most important archeological site, remnants of an advanced American Indian civilization, is located at the existing park and in the surrounding territory. Yet, many years have passed without active acquisition efforts, and now some of the prime land is being sold for farming use.

Poverty plans by hard-pressed state budget planners may be valid. But one wonders about Illinois' priorities as decades and generations go by without the purchase, study and display of the full site of the historic Indian settlement of which the Mounds formed a nucleus.

'Unusual growth potential' for the local metropolitan area

Heartening news is reported by Advertising Age, an international marketing newspaper, which lists this metropolitan area and nine others as having "unusual future growth potential." Also mentioned are Cincinnati, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Oklahoma City, Indianapolis, Salt Lake City, Wichita, Austin, Tex., Portland, Ore., and Lincoln, Neb.

"Sunbelt" cities have dominated the listing for the past three years but the latest survey shows "a new trend in the national display of economic health."

The new St. Louis convention center is cited as a positive factor for this region, as well as plans for public and private capital investment, improving labor-management relations, high productivity, post growth, scheduled transportation projects, relatively low lost manhours, and expanding employment.

U.S. approves Illinois' pioneering with gasohol auto fuel

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — The federal government has moved to allow sales of gasohol, almost two months after such sales began in Illinois.

The U.S. Department of Energy last week agreed to permit sales of gasohol in Illinois for 20 days, while department officials studied legal ceiling prices for the relatively new fuel.

There now is no legal ceiling price for gasohol, a mixture of unleaded gasoline and ethyl alcohol, because alcohol is not recognized by pricing regulations as a legal component of gasoline.

Because gasohol is more expensive than gasoline, it sometimes cannot be marketed at a profit without exceeding present ceiling prices for straight gasoline.

U.S. Representative Paul Findley, R-Pittsfield, had requested the DOE's temporary stay on gasohol regulations. The stay was granted Jan. 17.

Those who wish to continue to market gasohol must apply for a full exemption within five days of the stay's issuance for it to continue the full 20 days.

Gasohol first was sold commercially in Illinois in November in Zion, north of Chicago.

First downtown sales of the blend began this month at the John B. Mann service station in Pleasant Plains.

Mann Manager John Holmes applied to the DOE at that time for a legal ceiling price for gasohol, but officials said they were not equipped to develop a price.

Holmes began sales anyway, with verbal assurances that action would be taken by the federal agency.

The DOE announcement includes a method by which individual petroleum marketers may temporarily calculate a ceiling price that will reflect the additional cost of the alcohol in the gasoline.

The department said "a number of substantial benefits which accrue from the use of gasohol instead of gasoline" prompted the stay.

Among benefits the DOE cited are reports that gasohol is "cleaner burning, less polluting, energy conserving and generally produces better mileage."

The department also said it is clear that gasohol use would result in immediate reductions in the amount of gasoline consumed in America. Gasohol is a blend of gasoline containing 10 percent ethyl, or grain, alcohol.

Because the alcohol can be made from grains, which are in surplus now, gasohol has gained wide support from agriculturally-related experts as a way to increase farm markets and boost sagging prices and farm incomes.

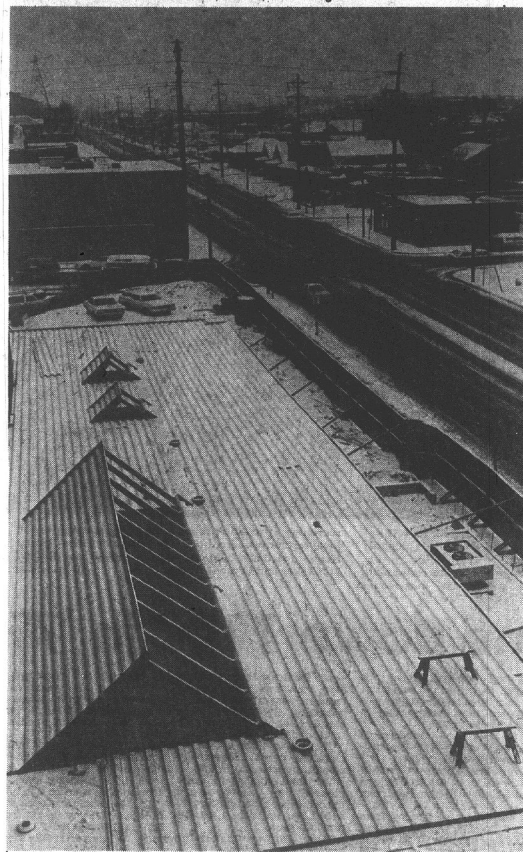

But the fuel also can be made from any starchy or sugar-bearing plant, such as sugar beets or artichokes, and many experts have pushed for widespread adoption of the fuel because it is a renewable resource.

Automobiles require no special adjustment to use gasohol. However, alcohol now sells for about $1.30 a gallon, and many experts say the increased expense in gasoline is not acceptable to the general public.

Nebraska has been selling gasohol for nearly four years, with state tax incentives to reduce the price.

The DOE stay does not mention pricing regulations in Nebraska, and local experts say they have been given no indication what pricing regulations may be planned for Nebraska gasohol marketers.

However, one petroleum marketing expert said Nebraska has been selling its gasohol with no regard for federal pricing regulation, and that the DOE may be planning a crackdown on those sales.

Millions live normal lives with diabetes

At least two in every hundred Americans have diabetes. And one of those two is not yet aware of it. In early or mild diabetes the typical symptoms aren't disabling, and there may be virtually no symptoms at all.

Diabetes is a serious disease for which there is no cure. But, fortunately, most of those with known diabetes who have been able to control their body chemistry live such normal lives that they would not know about their diabetes unless they were told.

Diabetes is characterized by the inability of body tissues to utilize carbohydrates (sugar and starch), both for immediate energy needs and in storage for future needs. Too little effective insulin is present to let sugar be used, so that sugar accumulates in the blood and spills over into the urine. The sugar must have water, which it exerts through the kidneys. This process dries out body tissues, causing excessive thirst, one of the first symptoms of diabetes. Other symptoms are loss of weight, increase in urination, hunger, unexplained tiredness, pains in the legs, itching, and skin infections. As the disease becomes more severe and the patient grows older, the blood vessels, kidneys and eyes may be affected.

Control of diabetes is worked out by balancing the kind and quality of food intake with the use of exercise and insulin. This usually can be done without interrupting the patient's routine of living very substantially. Half of all patients who develop diabetes after age 35 can manage their disease by diet alone.

The cue to successful control of diabetes, says the American Medical Association, is early detection, understanding rather than fear, and a well-managed balance among food intake, physical activity, and insulin or oral medication. This balance when patient and physician work together in mutual understanding. No patient can maintain continuous successful control of diabetes without regular visits to his or her doctor. Ignorance of proper self-care is the greatest single hazard of diabetes.

Steve, Eydie always in tune with each other

By DICK MAURICE
Steve Lawrence advises young singers, "Don't sing. I've got Dean. I've got Tom and Engelbert. I've got..."

The Brooklyn-born baritone has got Eydie Gorme as his songstress. They were married in 1957.

In this exclusive interview, Dick Maurice does an in-depth interview with the singing pair and finds out that Steve and Eydie will always be in tune.

MAURICE: Do you sing in the shower?

STEVE: No. As a matter of fact, never sang in the shower. I guess people that sing professionally do it everywhere else. People who don't sing professionally, sing in the shower. I hum in the shower.

MAURICE: What do you hum?

STEVE: I hum it's cold or it's hot, then I change the temperature then I sing it's nice to shower. No, I don't sing in the shower.

EYDIE: I don't bathe much.

STEVE: I've been meaning to talk to you about that.

EYDIE: I sing in the shower.

See, when you ask a question, you find things out that you never knew. Nobody ever asked me that question.

MAURICE: Which one of the two is the stronger?

STEVE: Well, I think the two, I definitely feel when it comes to strength, knowing that the male image has to be supported there is no question in my mind that Eydie is the stronger of the two. I mean, I make a decision and then we do what she wants, that's all.

EYDIE: He's lying.

Steve dominates our marriage. He dominates everything we do. He dominates what I want to eat. He dominates what time I get up. He dominates everything in my life.

He is really a big pain in my neck (ha, ha). Would you believe?

MAURICE: But you two are the sweethearts of television.

EYDIE: Who told you this: (they laugh)

STEVE: I had met most on the old "Tonight" Show hosted by Steve Allen.

EYDIE: He dominated most then.

STEVE: It was love at first sight.

EYDIE: The secret of survival of our relationship is, so far as I'm concerned, Steve and I have never, ever had an in-depth conversation (they laugh).

STEVE: I think a sense of humor is important too. I think that's very important for a relationship of any kind.

MAURICE: Who has the tendency to be more vain?

EYDIE: I would say Steve is not really as vain as most male stars that I've come in contact with. He has enough vanity to be provocative but not so much to be a turnoff.

STEVE: Thank you, my dear.

MAURICE: Are you two still in love? I mean do you, Steve, still remember to send flowers and do all those nice things?

STEVE: I think I'm pretty good at it. As a matter of fact, I'm taking my wife to dinner just as soon as we finish.

EYDIE: I would say that Steve has never made it a point to wait for my birthday or anniversary to be a very gentle and loving human being.

And I think he not only treats me this way but he treats people he likes this way. You can't be like that to just one person. You are either like that in your whole life and in everything that you do, or you're not just like that at all.

MAURICE: One final question. If you had one wish, what would you wish for?

STEVE: That's a rough question.

EYDIE: I think it's a simple question. If it would be a personal wish for ourselves, to me it would be the health and well-being of my children.

LOCKED DOORS wait the Rev. Edwin Arentsen as he tries to enter the Hope Clinic for Women, 21st and Iowa Streets, Thursday to talk with patients and staff members. At right, behind the door, is an employee.

The priest later was arrested near the entrance to the adjacent offices of Dr. Hector Zavallas, medical director of the clinic. Former pastor of the Holy Cross Church, Wendelin, Ill., he was charged with disorderly conduct.

Record sales by A. O. Smith Corporation in 1977

A. O. Smith Corporation had record sales in 1977. Profits from continuing operations were up modestly over 1976. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, reported last week in Milwaukee. Sales in 1977 amounted to $727,283,000, compared with $619,467,000 in 1976.

Profits from continuing operations were $16,549,000, or $3.38 per share, compared with 1976 results of $15,827,000, or $3.19 per share.

Smith noted that 1977 profits from continuing operations were the second best in the company's history, although he expressed disappointment that the profit improvement did not match the sales increase.

"In our record year of 1973," Smith said, "we had a 3.6 percent profit margin on sales of continuing operations while for 1977 this dropped to 2.3 percent, which is below the 2.5 percent we earned on 1976 sales."

For the fourth quarter of 1977, A. O. Smith had sales of $171,864,000 and profits of $4,787,000, or 98 cents per share from continuing operations, compared with fourth-quarter 1976 sales of $161,519,000 and earnings of $3,651,000, or 74 cents per share.

Smith said all operating units of the company were profitable in 1977, with A. O. Smith Harvester Products, Inc., a subsidiary which manufactures livestock feeding equipment, showing the best increase over 1976.

Generally good weather in the agricultural areas of North America and higher farm prices for beef and dairy products encouraged farmers to make capital investments.

This translated into improved demand at A. O. Smith Harvester, where dollar sales were up 32 percent over 1976. The subsidiary reported substantially higher profits in 1977 compared with 1976, Smith said.

The Automotive Division, which makes vehicle frames in Milwaukee and Granite City, also had significantly higher sales in 1977, but profits were off from the previous year.

The major reason for the lower profits in the division, Smith said, was an extensive model change involving the conversion of automobile production lines to make the smaller frames for General Motors down-sized intermediate cars.

Profits also were off at the Consumer Products Division because of competitive pricing. Going-in costs related to the acquisition of two West Coast manufacturing plants also had a negative impact on profits of the division, which manufactures water heating equipment. Sales were up in 1977 compared with 1976.

The Electric Motor Division had a good year in 1977 with sales up and profits remaining strong.

Earnings from discontinued operations in 1977, Smith said, resulting from an adjustment to the reserves related to the disposition of the elevator business, were $2,135,000, or 43 cents per share. Capital expenditures in 1977 were a record $34,258,000 compared with $16,239,000 spent in 1976.

A. O. Smith with its subsidiaries and affiliates, is a diversified manufacturer. Its product line includes water heating equipment, electric motors, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, auto and truck frames, fiber glass reinforced plastic pipe and computer services.

Glen Carbon attracts new manufacturing plant

It was announced last week by John Gibbons, president of the Land of Goshen Development Corp. of Madison County, that the corporation has obtained approval for a special "502" Small Business Administration loan in order to construct facilities for a new manufacturing plant for Polymer Technology, Inc.

Polymer will manufacture specialty plastic products for the chemical industry. The new facility will contain over 17,000 square feet of space, with expansion potential up to 35,000 square feet.

It will be built on a 10-acre site at the southeast corner of Cottonwood, near old Mont Station on the old Troy Road. It will employ 15 people at start-up, and the owners expect up to 50 will be required when the plant is in full operation.

Work will begin nearly immediately on the new facility, with completion expected by mid-1978. Sales of product will begin soon for full delivery, the owners say.

Construction of the plant will be by R & M Construction, Inc., of the Kettle River Commercial Park, Glen Carbon.

Land of Goshen is a specially authorized SBA corporation, formed to foster the development of small business concerns, by 25 local-level incorporators who have interest in community development.

In addition to the president, Elmer Pape serves as treasurer and David Dettmer as secretary. Directors are Gibbons, Dettmer, Pape, Bill Phillips, Albert Froelming, Stanley Stume and Merrill Otwein.

Gibbons said, "We are proud of the efforts of the Land of Goshen Development Corp. which have been going on for almost a year."

"We hope this represents the first of many new manufacturing facilities and other businesses which we will locate in the Glen Carbon-Edwardsville area."

The Bank of Edwardsville will be the lender for the land and buildings to be constructed, with the Cottonwood Bank and Trust Co., adding other SBA funds to the project.

Population estimates called needlessly low in this area

State and federal agencies consistently underestimate the population of this metropolitan region because of weaknesses in their methods, two regional organizations said last week.

As a result, the area loses considerable sums of federal, state and private money — and local governmental bodies are hampered in planning — because of inaccurate population forecasts, it is contended by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council and the Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

Gateway released its latest population estimate last week, showing the eight counties of the bi-state region had a population of 2,422,000 — up 4,152 from the 1970 census. Madison County increased by 10,000 during the eight years.

Gateway and the RCGA noted that the federal-state provisional estimate of regional population in 1976 was 88,100 under the estimate made by Gateway for that year.

A significant weakness in the methods used by federal and state agencies is that they are applied uniformly to all counties in a state, the two regional organizations asserted.

"This procedure cannot take into account the variations in data which are locally available. It ignores valuable data on residential utility customers which are available in large metropolitan areas but not generally in rural areas."

"This procedure also cannot allow for variations in local conditions, such as the differing pattern of motor vehicle registration between large metropolitan areas and rural areas," the two organizations said in a report.

By contrast, Gateway uses several methods of estimating population, selecting the best for each county based on the consistency of results with previous estimates, the consistency of data, and knowledge of local conditions.

Gateway's estimates are supported by other local organizations, such as electric companies' estimates and projections of utility users and the number of persons per household.

The federal-state methods were tested by using them to "predict," after the fact, the findings of the 1970 census. The result was a prediction that underestimated the population of Missouri's largest metropolitan areas — St. Louis City and County, and Jackson County (Kansas City).

Errors produced by federal-state methods are carried over into projections of population in future years, the report said.

It urged that federal-state methods be improved and that local analysts be allowed to contribute to the estimating process.

the scene of many patriotic ceremonies as well as being a favorite area during summer months when the central fountain is illuminated with many-colored lights each evening.

DOUBLE TROUBLE. Automobiles that were left parked on Madison Avenue ran into a double problem with last week's snow. Not only did the deep snow and strong wind cause drifts that nearly covered some cars, but snowplows grading the streets formed another ridge of snow, further hemming in the autos.

4 hurt in van-auto accident

An accident on Maryville Road at Lynch Avenue at 8:50 p.m. Saturday resulted in injuries to four persons and the arrest of one driver, Clifford C. Cozart, 65, of 2328 Lynch Ave. Cozart allegedly was found in an intoxicated condition, slumped over the steering wheel in his 1973 Dodge van. An open bottle of beer was on the floor of the van, officers said.

He was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol, reckless driving and failure to yield the right of way.

Cozart's van traveling east on Lynch Avenue apparently went through a stop sign and struck an auto moving north on Maryville Road, operated by Delores Husted, 2717 Buxton Ave.

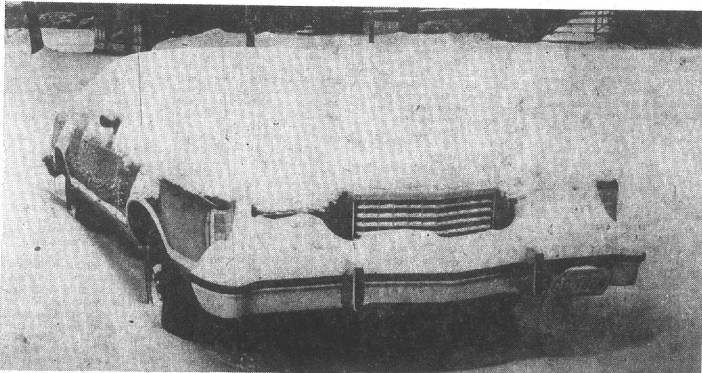

Mrs. Husted was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for pains in the jaw and head. She had x-rays taken and was released to her physician's care.

Three passengers in the Husted car also required treatment.

Gary Husted, 8, of 2717 Buxton Ave., suffered pains in the right shoulder and right knee; Judy Husted, 15, of the same address, struck her nose and has pain in the nasal bones and right knee; and Patricia Greathouse, 15, of 2801 Kirkpatrick Homes, had x-rays taken of the right hip.

All were released after treatment.

Cozart was released from custody at 10:30 p.m. Saturday on payment of $100 cash bond.

SNOW-CLAD AUTO last week in 2500 block of Iowa Street is covered with more than four inches of snow. Crews operated snowplows and other equipment was kept busy from 4:30 that morning, trying to keep recently-designated city snow routes open to traffic.

Honor group inducts students

The Rev. Paul Bryant, pastor of Trinity United Methodist Church, announced today that several of the young members have been inducted into The Society of Distinguished American High Schools Students.

Students from this area who were inducted include Debra Griffin, David Bryant, William Metcalf, Carla Morris, John Braasmones, Paula Bryant and Dana Harris.

The Society, called one of the nation's foremost high school honoraries, inducted the students because of excellence and leadership in church and civic achievement, Pastor Bryant said.

The national awards program is sponsored by 21 of America's

STEALS $200 RING

A burglar entered the home of Deborah French, 2207 (rear) Grand Ave., possibly through a window, and stole a diamond engagement ring, valued at $200, from a jewelry box, $20 in rolled quarters from a tray on top of the refrigerator and $30 in coins from the kitchen table, she reported at 4:25 p.m. Friday.

HOW HIGH IS YOUR E.Q.?

(Economics Quotient)

CAN YOU ANSWER THESE BASIC ECONOMIC QUESTIONS?

True False
☐ (1.) One out of five American workers belongs to a labor union.
☐ (2.) Producers of goods outnumber producers of services in our economy.
☐ (3.) In 1975, the investment in equipment and facilities averaged almost $41,000 for each production worker in American industry.

If you found these questions tough, your Economics Quotient, your E.Q., could probably stand some improvement.

A special booklet has been prepared to help you learn more about what makes our American Economic System tick. It's fact-filled, easy reading and free. It's also an easy way to raise your E.Q.

For your copy, write: "Economics," Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

THE AMERICAN Economic System. We should all learn more about it.

A discussion was held but no decision reached Thursday evening on which method of payment the Madison School District will use to comply with the new Illinois Unemployment Insurance Act.

The board has two options of payment. One is to pay one percent of the wages of each

GC may revise flood insurance ordinances

Granite City may have to update its flood insurance ordinances in order to remain eligible for the federal flood insurance program, Granite City aldermen have been told.

A letter from the Illinois Department of Transportation was read last week informing the aldermen the city has six months in which to bring its ordinances into compliance with new flood insurance requirements.

IDOT will assist the city in reviewing its existing legislation to determine if modifications are needed, due to recent requirements.

The letter was referred to the city engineer and city attorney for study.

In other business, the council was informed by Alderman employee up to a maximum of $60 per employee per year.

The second option is payment by direct reimbursement to the state on a dollar for dollar basis for any benefits paid by the state to the district's former employees who meet eligibility requirements under the law.

San Whitmer, who was serving as mayor pro-tem, that the city will discontinue ambulance service outside of the city limits on March 15, unless cities, villages and townships to be served reach some form of agreement which will guarantee that the city not lose money serving the outlying areas.

He said that March 15, the city will have to begin paying the salaries for ambulance personnel, which now are paid from federal grant funds. The city attorney has ruled it would be illegal for the taxpayers of Granite City to subsidize service for those outside of the city.

Representatives of the city and of the outlying townships, cities and village met Jan. 9 to attempt to find a solution and were to meet again today.

In other actions, the board: Approved parents of Blair School publishing a souvenir yearbook for 1978; approved the Madison Junior Service Club distributing envelopes for contributions to the March of Dimes in the schools.

Authorized the high school to dismiss at 2 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 30, for the staff to receive an orientation regarding the North Central Association; approved a program in the health class to teach cardiopulmonary resuscitation, a lifesaving technique.

Refused use of the school mini-bus by the Visiting Nurses Association due to the fact that the mini-bus is used constantly on school business; hired Michael Garland, a teacher, as the junior high school baseball coach; and approved a YMCA request to use Dunbar School for a basketball program.

CONSERVE

IT'S OUR BEST BET

Saving energy helps us all to control rising costs — and in our case, to help hold down food prices. Energy conservation is a year-round, companywide priority at Kroger.

Among the steps Kroger has taken to save energy are recycling of heat generated by refrigeration equipment to provide heating and hot water for the store (these heat reclaim systems are now in 70% of Kroger Food Stores) ... more energy-efficient lighting ... elimination of unnecessary lighting ... reduction of wasted power through better equipment maintenance and equipment modifications ... improved building insulation ... and more direct methods like turning out lights and turning down store thermostats.

Thanks to efforts such as these, an "energy-managed" supermarket such as Kroger uses little more energy when open than closed. For example, the largest use of energy in a supermarket is for refrigeration equipment, which must stay on 24 hours a day to protect food. Some store lights are needed for safety, security and shelf stocking. Parking lot lights and checkout equipment account for less than 1% of a store's energy requirements. Significantly, the major energy savings have been realized through the heat reclaim systems, which save approximately 500,000 kilowatt hours of electricity or two million cubic feet of gas on an annual basis in a typical superstore.

Kroger will continue to search for innovative ways to save energy while we try to serve you — our customers — efficiently and well.
